

Throughout the year, the Livingston County Community Alliance, in conjunction with the Michigan State Police, perform 100+ alcohol compliance checks throughout Livingston County. When performing compliance checks, an undercover Michigan State Police officer, along with a minor, visit randomly selected alcohol retailers in which the minor attempts to purchase alcohol. These “stings” ensure that employees are complying with Michigan liquor laws and not selling alcohol to anyone under the age of 21. The Livingston County Community Alliance would like to recognize the retailers that did not sell to minors:
